Through an oversight we neglected to call attention to the arrival of a fine boy baby at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kavanaugh. We have therefore given Charles time to get to himself before the first issue reached.

Henry Hyler, a colored, aged 32 years, shot at Independence in this city last Saturday morning and was buried at the city cemetery on Sunday. He was born and raised in Versailles and was regarded as an excellent young man by all.

Clas Goodman and Clas Otten, two of our local fishermen, went down on the Gravel last Saturday night and succeeded in securing 75 pounds of the finest fish that have been brought to Versailles since the spring season opened.

Dr. J. M. Gunn arrived home from St. Louis last Sunday. He graduated with high honors winning first prize in surgery in a class of 120 students at Barnes Medical College, and was one of 20 who secured "honorable mention," which speaks well for his abilities as a physician.

Woods Parks, who recently returned from the Philippine Islands where he had been engaged in teaching and also in the postal service for the past two years, was in Versailles Monday. Woods says he likes to live in Uncle Sam's new possessions very well but the United States suits him better.

Tol G. McGrew, one of the assistants in the office of the Warrensburg Journal-Democrat, was married Wednesday of last week to Miss Pearl Hampton of that city. Mr. McGrew was formerly a printer in Versailles and made a visit with old friends here last summer. He is a genial young man and deserves the fair young bride he has secured.

Dr. O. A. Williams, one of our oldest resident physicians, is seriously ill at his home on Campbell street, his disease being pneumonia, with little hope of his recovery.

Alpha Josephine, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Brown of Denver, Colo., died at their home in that city Friday, April 29, and was brought to this city for interment last Monday. The little one was born February 22nd last week and was stricken with pneumonia which resulted in death. Mrs. Brown is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Williams of this city and the funeral was conducted from their home on Campbell street Monday afternoon. The sympathy of their many Versailles friends is extended to the parents in this hour of deep sorrow.

G. R. Price Dead.

G. R. Price, aged 56 years, died at his home in the northeast part of this city Friday morning, April 29, his disease being bronchial trouble. While Mr. Price had not been in the best of health for several months his death came as a sudden blow to his relatives and friends. Looking after some work at his farm near town in the early part of last week he remarked that he was feeling bad and took a chill before reaching his home.

His condition became worse and physicians were compelled to insert a tube in his throat to aid him in breathing. Relief was only temporary and Friday morning he passed away in the presence of his family.

Uncle Robert Price had lived in Morgan county from boyhood. He was a farmer and until last summer had resided on his farm east of this city, when he and his family moved to Versailles. He leaves a wife and six children, three children having preceded him in death. He was one of twelve brothers and sisters of whom three brothers and one sister are still living.

The funeral took place last Saturday morning, Rev. Harold of Ottaville conducting the services. The remains were interred in Hopewell cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

Profound sympathy is extended to the wife, family and other relatives in this hour of their deep sorrow.

To the People of Versailles and Morgan County.

DEAR FRIENDS: As it is impossible for me to reach everyone in with a personal letter I take this method of asking the ladies of Versailles and Morgan county to visit the Millinery Bazaar and inspect my stock of spring and summer hats and bonnets. My stock is not only stylish and up to date, but the prices are the lowest that good goods can be offered at. I simply ask a comparison. Personal letters are unobtainable, but come to the Bazaar we will show you that we practice what we preach—quality, quantity and price. Don't be deceived.

Very truly,

MILDREDA BAYBARR,
South Side Square.

MRS. ORVILLE CHILDS, Manager.

Christian Church Dedication.

The Christian Church building in this city is undergoing painting, papering and other repairs. This church has recently paid in full the indebtedness on their building, and when the work now being done on it is completed they will have one of the neatest church edifices in the county. They have set the third Lord's day in May as the time for their dedication, and Elder Edmund Wilks of Call Ford, Mo., will preach both morning and evening on that occasion. Elder Wilks is a minister of high standing in the Christian church and fully able to do any work that may be expected of him in connection with the Christian Ministry. Elder Woods is busy sending out invitations to other congregations and members of the Christian church in the county. It is the desire of the church here to have every member of the Church of Christ in Morgan county present, and arrangements will be made for the entertainment of all who will come. The program for the day will be published later.
